Introduction

In the name of Allah, the Most Compassionate, the Most Merciful.

All praise is due to Allah; we praise Him and seek His help and forgiveness.

We seek refuge with Allah from the evil of our selves and from our bad deeds.

Whoever Allah guides, none can lead astray, and whoever He leads astray, none can guide.

I bear witness that none is worthy of worship but Allah, and I bear witness that Muhammad is His slave and messenger.

To proceed:

The Sunnah is the second source of legislation in Islam, and it is unanimously regarded by Muslims as an independent source.

The Sunnah and Qur'an are correlated and inseparable.

The Qur'an cannot be properly understood and cannot provide its ultimate benefit without the Sunnah.

The Sunnah is a guardian of the Qur'an; were it not for the Sunnah, anyone could say whatever he liked about the Qur'an.

Out of His favor upon this Ummah, Allah Almighty endowed it with distinguished figures and select elite, at its early stage, who devoted themselves to serving the pure Sunnah. They gathered it directly from those who heard it and collected it from those who memorized it. To this end, they expended their wealth and lifetime. Thanks to their great effort, we have many huge books that comprise the legacy of our Prophet (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him). It is because of this that they merit the pleasure of Allah Almighty and deserve gratitude and honor.

Those widely renowned books include the following:

Al-Jāmi' Al-Sahīh by Al-Bukhāri

Al-Jāmi' Al-Sahīh by Muslim

Jāmi' Al-Tirmidhi

Sunan Abu Dāwūd

Sunan Al-Nasā'i

Sunan Ibn Mājah

Muslim scholars devoted attention to the books of Sunnah in general and to those Six Books in particular: Al-Bukhāri, Muslim, Abu Dāwūd, Al-Tirmidhi, Al-Nasā'i, and Ibn Mājah. They gave extraordinary attention to these books, in terms of their chains of transmission and texts. So, they memorized, verified, arranged, abridged, and commented on these important compilations.

As another manifestation of this interest, scholars compiled the Hadīths whose Takhrīj (verification and authentication) is subject to agreement among the compilers of the Six Books. The first to undertake such a great endeavor was Imam Ibn al-Athīr (d. 606 AH) (may Allah have mercy upon him)

among the Six Books, following the approach of the earlier scholars. Latter scholars of Hadīth, on the other hand, replaced Al-Muwatta' with Sunan Ibn Mājah, something which became common and traditional among scholars.

Scholars who wrote on this topic include Imam Al-Hāfizh 'Alā' al-Dīn Maghlatāy (d. 762 AH). He authored a book titled Al-Durar Al-Manzhūm min Kalām Al-Mustafa Al-Ma'sūm. However, he only cited the Hadīths on Islamic rulings and excluded other Hadīths.

Among the contemporary scholars is Dr. 'Awwād al-Khalaf, who penned a book titled Sahīh Al-Huffāzh mimma Ittafaqa 'alayhi Al-A'imma Al-Sittah. But he did not follow the traditional way of counting the Hadīths.

For example, if a Hadīth is reported by a certain Companion and narrated in only four of the Six Books, and another version of the Hadīth is reported by another Companion and narrated in two of the Six Books, in such a case the scholars of Hadīth do not consider this Hadīth one of the Hadīths whose Takhrīj is subject to agreement among the compilers of the Six Books; rather, they deem it two separate Hadīths. Dr. 'Awwād, on the other hand, regards the two Hadīths as one and counts it among the Hadīths whose Takhrīj is subject to agreement among the compilers of the Six Books.

Hence, there was still a need for compiling a book that comprises the Hadīths whose Takhrīj is agreed upon among the compilers of the Six Books, taking into consideration the methodology adopted by the scholars of Hadīth.

It is a favor from Allah that He enabled us to contribute to this great work under the auspices of Madīnah Academic Center for Serving the Qur'an and Sunnah by writing this book, which we called Al-La'ālī' Al-Mudī'ah fima Ittafaqa 'alayhi As-hāb Al-Kutub Al-Sittah.

The Book Methodology:

In this book, we have adopted the following methodology:

1. We include in this book the Hadīths for which the compilers of the Six Books made Takhrīj via one Companion. If there are two Companions, even if the Hadīth's wording is the same, we deem it as two Hadīths as per the rule established among the scholars of Hadīth.

An example is a Hadīth reported by Anas who said:

“The Prophet (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) forbade using animals as targets.”

The Hadīth, as reported by Anas, is narrated in the Six Books, except for Al-Tirmidhi who narrated it through Abu al-Dardā'. Therefore, we did not include it in this book.

2. The Hadīths are arranged by topic in accordance with the order adopted in Sahīh Muslim, for it is the best book in terms of arrangement.

3. The wordings included in the book are those narrated by Al-Bukhāri, given his great care in this regard.

4. We only mention the name of the Companion in a chain of transmission for the sake of brevity. And we may also mention the name of the succeeding Tābi'i (one who met a Companion and died as a Muslim),

if contextually needed.

We have greatly benefited from the book Al-Lu'lu' wa Al-Marjān by Shaykh Fu'ād 'Abd al-Bāqi, for he compiled therein the Hadīths on which both Al-Bukhāri and Muslim agreed on its Takhrīj.

Nonetheless, we corrected the author with regard to some Hadīths, which he did not include in his book.

Benefits of this book:

1. We compiled in this book the Hadīths whose original versions were subject to Takhrīj by the famous Six Compilers of Hadīth, namely Al-Bukhāri, Muslim, Abu Dāwūd, Al-Tirmidhi, Al-Nasā'i, and Ibn Mājah. Indeed, these are the most authentic among the Prophet's reported statements.

2. Undoubtedly, whoever wants to memorize the Six Books should first begin with the Hadīths agreed upon among those six scholars, and then memorize the Hadīths agreed upon between Al-Bukhāri and Muslim, then the Hadīths narrated by Al-Bukhāri alone, then the Hadīths narrated by Muslim alone, and then the additional Hadīths narrated by each of the four Imams and that agree with the conditions of both Al-Bukhāri and Muslim or one of them.

3. The book is short and easy to read, use, and benefit from.

This idea first originated thanks to a suggestion from brother Kamrān Malik, director of Tahdhīb Channel. May Allah accept this from him, reward him, and increase his keenness to serve and spread the Sunnah.

Finally, I would like to thank the researchers Shaykh Muhammad Sa'dullah Khān, Shaykh Hāfiz Ahmad, and Shaykh 'Abdullah Nūr for the great efforts they made in collecting the Hadīths, extracting them from the Six Books, and arranging them in accordance with the approach of the scholars of Hadīth. May Allah reward them abundantly for what they did for us and all Muslims.

In conclusion, I would like to note that the administration of Madīnah Academic Center for Serving the Qur'an and Sunnah played a big part in writing and publishing this book.

I implore Allah Almighty to enable those in charge of this center and all who support it and work in it to serve His religion and spread the Sunnah of His Prophet (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him), and I ask Him to bless their efforts and guide them to what He likes and is pleased with.

May Allah accept this work from us, render it sincerely done for His sake, and record it among our good deeds to benefit us on a day when no wealth or children will be of any avail; indeed, He is All-Hearing, Responsive.

Book of Faith

Chapter: The call to the two testimonies and Islamic teachings

Ibn 'Abbās (may Allah be pleased with him) reported that the Messenger of Allah (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) said to Mu'adh ibn Jabal as he was sending him to Yemen: "You will come to a people of the Scripture. When you reach them, invite them to testify that there is no true god but Allah and that Muhammad is His Messenger. If they obey you in that, tell them that Allah has enjoined on them five prayers every day and night. If they obey you in that, tell them that Allah has enjoined Zakah on them, to be taken from the rich amongst them and given to the poor amongst them. If they obey you in that, beware of taking their best properties; and fear the invocation of an oppressed person, for there is no barrier between his invocation and Allah."

He replied: "By Allah, I will surely fight those who made a distinction between prayer and Zakah, for Zakah is the right in wealth. By Allah, if they withhold from me as much as a rope that they used to give to the Messenger of Allah (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him), I will definitely fight them for withholding it!" ## Chapter: Clarifying that faith decreases by sin and that a sinner is deemed lacking in faith, meaning that his faith is incomplete

Abu Hurayrah (may Allah be pleased with him) reported that the Prophet (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) said: "The adulterer is not a believer while he is committing adultery. The drinker of wine is not a believer while he is drinking wine. The thief is not a believer while he is stealing. The plunderer is not a believer while he is plundering and the people are looking on."

Chapter: Pointing out the strictness of the prohibition of letting the clothing hang below the ankles, reminding others of the favors one did to them, and promoting goods by swearing; and clarifying the three types of people whom Allah will not speak to on the Day of Judgment, nor will He look at them or purify them, and for them will be a painful punishment.

Abu Hurayrah (may Allah be pleased with him) reported that the Prophet (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) said: "There are three types of people whom Allah will not speak to on the Day of Judgment, nor will He purify them, and for them will be a painful punishment: a man who has superfluous water on a way and he withholds it from wayfarers; a man who pledges allegiance to a ruler merely for worldly purposes; if he gives him what he wants, he honors his pledge; otherwise, he does not honor it; and a man who sells a commodity to another after 'Asr and he swears by Allah that he was offered such and such price, and so he believes him and takes it, although he was not offered that price."

Book of Purification

Chapter: Ablution of the Prophet (PBUH)

'Abdullāh ibn Zayd (may Allah be pleased with him) was asked about the Prophet's ablution, so he asked for a vessel of water and performed ablution like that of the Prophet (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) in front of them. He poured water from the vessel on his hands, washing them thrice. Then, he put his hand in the vessel and rinsed his mouth and washed his nose with three handfuls. He put his hand in the water again and washed his face thrice. Then, he washed his hands twice up to the elbows, after which he put his hand in the water and passed them over his head once, bringing them to the front and to the back of his head. Then, he washed his feet up to the ankles.

Book: Cleaning after relieving oneself

Abu Ayyūb al-Ansāri (may Allah be pleased with him) reported that the Prophet (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) said: "When you relieve yourselves, do not face the Qiblah or turn your backs towards it. Rather, turn to the east or the west." Abu Ayyūb said: "We came to the Levant and found lavatories built in the direction of the Qiblah. We would turn ourselves and ask forgiveness from Allah, the Almighty."

Chapter: Wiping over leather socks

Hammām ibn al-Hārith reported: I saw Jarīr ibn ‘Abdullāh (may Allah be pleased with him) urinating then performing ablution and wiping over his leather socks. He then stood for prayer and prayed. He was asked about that and he said: "I saw the Prophet (may Allah’s peace and blessings be upon him) do the same."

Al-Mughīrah (may Allah be pleased with him) reported: "One night, I was traveling with the Prophet (may Allah’s peace and blessings be upon him). He asked me: 'Do you have any water with you?' I replied: 'Yes!' So, he got off his she-camel and walked away till he disappeared in the darkness of the night. Then, he came back and I poured water for him from the waterskin. He washed his face and hands while wearing a woolen cloak from which he could not take his arms out. So, he took them out from underneath the cloak. Then, he washed his forearms and wiped over his head. I got down to take off his leather socks, but he said: 'Leave them, for I have performed ablution before putting them on.' So he wiped over them."

Chapter: Proof of the impurity of urine and the obligation to shield oneself from it

Ibn ‘Abbās (may Allah be pleased with him) reported: "The Prophet (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) passed by two graves and said: 'They are being tortured, and they are not being tortured for a major sin. One of them would not save himself from being soiled with his urine, while the other was going about with calumnies.' He then took a green leaf of a date-palm tree, split it into two, and planted one on each grave. The people said: 'O Messenger of Allah, why did you do that?' He replied: 'I hope that their torture may be lessened until these become dry.' "

Abu Hurayrah (may Allah be pleased with him) reported: A man entered the mosque and started praying while the Messenger of Allah (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) was sitting somewhere in the mosque. Thereafter, the man came and greeted him, so he said to him: "Go back and pray, for you have not prayed." The man went back and prayed then greeted him. After returning the greeting, he said: "Go back and pray, for you have not prayed." In the third time, the man said: "Teach me." Then he said: "When you rise for prayer, perform ablution properly, face the Qiblah, and say Takbīr. Then, recite some verses of what you know of the Qur'an. Then, bow and remain in this position till you feel settled in bowing. Then, raise your head and stand straight, and then prostrate yourself till you feel settled in prostration. Then, sit up till you feel settled in sitting. Then, prostrate yourself again till you feel settled in prostration, and then get up and stand straight. Do this in your whole prayer."

Chapter: Tashahhud in prayer

'Abdullāh ibn Mas'ūd (may Allah be pleased with him) reported: Whenever we prayed with the Prophet (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him), we used to say: "Peace be upon Allah before His servants; peace be upon Jibrīl; peace be upon Mikā'il; and peace be upon so-and-so and so-and-so!" When the Prophet (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) finished the prayer, he turned toward us and said: "Indeed, Allah is Peace. So, when anyone of you sits in the prayer, let him say: 'All greetings, prayers, and good things are due to Allah; peace be upon you, O Prophet, and the mercy and blessings of Allah; peace be upon us and upon the righteous servants of Allah.' If he says that, it will include every righteous servant in the heavens and earth. 'I bear witness that there is no true god but Allah, and I bear witness that Muhammad is His servant and Messenger.' After that, he can say anything he wishes."

Chapter: Invoking Allah's peace and blessings upon the Prophet after Tashahhud.

'Abdur-Rahmān ibn Abi Layla reported: I met Ka'b ibn 'Ujrah and he said to me: "Shall I give you a gift which I heard from the Prophet (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him)?" I said: "Yes, indeed. Give it to me." He said: "We asked the Prophet (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him), saying: 'O Messenger of Allah, how can we invoke blessings upon you, O people of the (Prophet's) house, for Allah has taught us how to invoke peace upon you?' He said: 'Say: O Allah, bestow Your prayers on Muhammad and the family of Muhammad as You bestowed Your prayers on Ibrahīm and the family of Ibrahīm; verily, You are Praiseworthy, Most Glorious! ## Chapter: Those led in prayer follow the Imām

Anas ibn Mālik (may Allah be pleased with him) reported: Once the Messenger of Allah (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) rode a horse and he fell off it and his right side got scraped. He offered one of the prayers while sitting and we also prayed behind him sitting. When he completed the prayer, he said: "The Imām is appointed to be followed. Pray standing if he prays standing, bow when he bows, and rise when he rises; and if he says: 'Allah hears whoever praises Him,' say: 'Praise be to You, our Lord.' Pray standing if he prays standing and pray sitting, all of you, if he prays sitting." Abu 'Abdullah said that Al-Humaydi said: "His statement: 'Pray sitting if he prays sitting' was made during his past illness, but later the Prophet (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) prayed sitting and the people prayed standing behind him, and he did not order them to sit. We should follow the latest actions of the Prophet (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him)."

Jābir ibn 'Abdullāh reported that Mu'ādh ibn Jabal (may Allah be pleased with him) used to pray with the Prophet (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) and then go to lead his people in prayer. Once he led the people in prayer and recited Sūrat Al-Baqarah. A man left the congregational prayer and prayed separately in a light manner. When Mu'ādh knew about it, he said: "He is a hypocrite." Upon hearing this, the man went to the Prophet (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) and said: "O Messenger of Allah, we are people who work with our own hands and irrigate with our camels. Last night Mu'ādh led us in prayer and recited Sūrat Al-Baqarah; so I offered my prayer separately, and because of that, he claimed that I was a hypocrite." The Prophet (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) called Mu'ādh and said: "O Mu'ādh! Are you putting people to trial? - saying it three times - Recite Sūrat Ash-Shams, Sūrat Al-A'la, and the like."

Chapter: The Sutra (shield) of a praying person

Abu Juhayfah (may Allah be pleased with him) reported: "I saw the Messenger of Allah (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) in a red leather tent and I saw Bilāl taking the remaining water from the ablution of the Messenger of Allah (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him). I saw the people rushing to this water and whoever got some of it would rub it on his body and those who could not get any took the moisture from the others' hands. Then, I saw Bilāl carry a stick and plant it in the ground. The Prophet (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) came out tucking his red cloak and he led the people in prayer towards this stick, offering two Rak'ahs. I saw people and animals passing (in front of him) beyond the stick."

Chapter: Preventing one who passes in front of a praying person

Busr ibn Sa'īd reported that Zayd ibn Khālid sent him to Abu Juhaym to ask him about what he had heard from the Prophet (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) on passing in front of a praying person. Abu Juhaym said: "The Prophet (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) said: 'If a person who passes in front of a praying one knew the extent of this sin, it would be better for him to wait for forty than to pass in front of him.'" Abu An-Nadr said: "I do not know whether he said forty days, months, or years."

Chapter: The prohibition of talking during prayer and abrogation of the former permissibility.

Jābir ibn 'Abdullāh (may Allah be pleased with him) reported: "The Prophet (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) sent me on an errand. After completing it, I returned and greeted him, but he did not return the greeting. I felt anxious in a way that only Allah knows. I said to myself: 'Perhaps the Messenger of Allah (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) is upset with me because I did not come back quickly.' Then, I greeted him and he did not return the greeting. So, I felt even more anxious than the first time. Then, I greeted him and he returned the greeting and said: 'I could not return your greeting because I was praying.' He was on his camel facing a direction other than the Qiblah."

Chapter: Forgetfulness during prayer and the prostration for it

Abu Hurayrah (may Allah be pleased with him) reported that the Prophet (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) said: "When anyone of you stands for prayer, the devil comes and confuses him till he forgets how many rak'ahs he has prayed. So, if this happens to anyone of you, he should perform two prostrations while sitting."

Ibrāhīm reported from ‘Alqamah that he said: ‘Abdullāh (may Allah be pleased with him) reported: The Prophet (may Allah’s peace and blessings be upon him) offered prayer. Ibrāhīm (a sub-narrator) said: "I do not know whether he prayed more or less than usual." When he finished the prayer, he was asked: "O Messenger of Allah, has there been any change to prayer?" He said: "What is that?" The people said: "You have prayed such and such (number of Rak ‘ahs)." Thereupon, he bent his legs, faced the Qiblah, offered two prostrations, and then made Taslīm. When he turned to face us, he said: "If there were any change to prayer, I would have surely informed you; but I am a human being like you and I forget just as you forget. So, if I forget, remind me; and if anyone of you is doubtful about his prayer, he should make an estimate and complete his prayer accordingly, then make Taslīm then offer two prostrations."

Ibn Sīrīn reported that Abu Hurayrah (may Allah be pleased with him) reported: "The Messenger of Allah (may Allah’s peace and blessings be upon him) led us in one of the two daytime prayers. (Ibn Sīrīn said: "Abu Hurayrah mentioned it by name but I forgot it.") He (the Prophet) prayed two Rak‘ahs and then finished the prayer with Taslīm. Then, he went toward a beam of wood laying across the mosque and leaned upon it in such a way as if he was angry. He placed his right hand over the left and interlaced his fingers. The people who were in a haste left the mosque through its gates, saying: 'The prayer has been shortened.' Abu Bakr and ‘Umar, who were present at that time, did not dare to talk to the Prophet. And among them was a long-handed man called Dhul-Yadayn who asked the Prophet: 'O Messenger of Allah, have you forgotten or has the prayer been shortened?' He replied: 'I have not forgotten, nor has it been shortened,' then he said: 'Is what Dhul-Yadayn saying true?' They answered in the affirmative. So he came forward and prayed what he missed, then finished the prayer with Taslīm. Then he made Takbīr and prostrated as he normally did or longer. Then he raised his head and made Takbīr. He made Takbīr again and prostrated as he normally did or longer. Then he raised his head and made Takbīr." When people asked Ibn Sīrīn if the Prophet offered Taslīm, he said: "I was informed that ‘Imrān ibn Husayn reported: "he then offered Taslīm."

Chapter: The merit of congregational prayer and clarifying the sinfulness of failure to attend it

Abu Hurayrah (may Allah be pleased with him) reported that the Prophet (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) said: "A prayer offered in congregation is 25 times more meritorious than a prayer offered in his house or market. If one of you performs ablution properly and comes to the mosque for the sole purpose of praying, for each step he takes Allah will raise him by one degree and erase one sin from him, until he enters the mosque. And when he enters the mosque, he will be deemed in prayer as long as the prayer keeps him there, and the angels will invoke Allah's blessings and mercy upon him as long as he remains in the place where he prays, saying 'O Allah, forgive him; O Allah, show mercy to him', unless his ablution is broken."

Chapter: Who is more worthy of being Imām

Mālik ibn al-Huwayrith (may Allah be pleased with him) reported: "I came to the Prophet (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) along with a group of men from my people. We stayed with him for twenty days, and he was merciful and compassionate. When he noticed our longing for our families, he said to us: 'Go back and stay amongst them and teach them the religion. Offer the prayer, and when its time comes, let one of you recite the Adhān and the eldest one of you should lead you in prayer.'"

Chapter: Supplication in the night prayer

'Abdullāh ibn 'Abbās (may Allah be pleased with him) reported: "I stayed a night in the house of Maymūnah, (his maternal aunt) the Prophet's wife. I lay down across the cushion and the Messenger of Allah (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) and his wife lay down on it lengthwise. The Messenger of Allah (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) slept till midnight, or shortly before or after that. He woke up and sat up, wiping the effect of sleep off his face with his hands. Then, he recited ten last verses of Sūrat Āl-'Imrān, after which he moved toward a hanging water-skin and made ablution from it, properly. Then, he stood for prayer. So I got up and did as he did. Then, I moved and stood beside him. He put his right hand on my head and took hold of my right ear, twisting it. He offered two Rak'ahs, followed by two Rak'ahs, then two Rak'ahs, then two, then two, and then two. Then, he performed Witr, and after that he lay down until the Muezzin came to him. So, he got up, offered two brief Rak'ahs then went out and performed Fajr prayer."

Book of Eclipses

Chapter: Eclipse prayer.

'Ā'ishah (may Allah be pleased with her) reported: "The sun was eclipsed in the lifetime of the Messenger of Allah (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him), so he led the people in prayer."

He stood for long, bowed for long, then stood for long, but it was shorter than the previous one, and then he bowed for long, but it was shorter than the previous one. Then, he prostrated himself for long. He did in the second Rak'ah as he did in the first one. He finished the prayer as the sun became clear. Starting with praising Allah, he addressed the people, saying: 'Indeed, the sun and the moon are two of the signs of Allah. They are not eclipsed due to the death or birth of anyone. So, if you see that, supplicate Allah, proclaim His greatness (say Allahu Akbar), pray, and give charity.' Then, he said: 'O followers of Muhammad, by Allah, no one is more jealous than Allah that any of His servants, male or female, should commit adultery. O followers of Muhammad, by Allah, if you knew what I know, you would laugh little and cry a lot.'

Book of Funerals

Chapter: Patience over affliction at the first shock.

Anas ibn Mālik (may Allah be pleased with him) reported: "The Prophet (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) passed by a woman who was weeping at the side of a grave. He said to her: 'Fear Allah and be patient.' In reply, she said: 'Leave me alone, for you have not been afflicted with a calamity like mine,' not recognizing him. When she was informed that he was the Prophet (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him), she went to his house, and there she did not find any doormen. She said to him: 'I did not recognize you.' He said: 'Indeed, patience is at the first shock.'"

Chapter: The merit of fasting.

Abu Hurayrah (may Allah be pleased with him) reported that the Prophet (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) said: "Allah said: 'All deeds of the son of Adam are for himself, except for fasting; it is for Me, and I give the reward for it. Fasting is a shield. When anyone of you is fasting, he should avoid obscene language and loud voice, and if anyone curses him or quarrels with him, he should say: "I am fasting." By the One in whose hand the soul of Muhammad is, the breath of a fasting person is more pleasant to Allah than the fragrance of musk. A fasting person has two occasions of joy: When he breaks his fast, he feels joy, and when he meets his Lord, he feels joy for his fast."

Chapter: Fasting of the Prophet (PBUH) outside Ramadan and the desirability not to keep a month free from fasting.

‘Ā’ishah (may Allah be pleased with her) reported: "The Messenger of Allah (may Allah’s peace and blessings be upon him) would observe fast till we would say: He will not stop fasting. And he would stop fasting till we would say: He will not observe fast. I did not see the Messenger of Allah (may Allah’s peace and blessings be upon him) fast a complete month except for Ramadan, and I did not see him fast in a month more than he did in Sha’bān."

Chapter: The prohibition of observing continuous fast, if the fasting person suffers harm because of it, or neglects some duty because of it, or does not break the fast during Eids and the Days of Tashrīq and showing the desirability of fasting on alternate days.

‘Abdullāh ibn ‘Amr ibn al-‘Ās (may Allah be pleased with him) reported: "The Messenger of Allah (may Allah’s peace and blessings be upon him) said to me: 'I was informed that you observe fast during the day and pray at night. Is it true?' I said: 'Yes, O Messenger of Allah.' He said: 'Do not do that! Fast and stop fasting, and pray and sleep. Indeed, your body has a right upon you, your eyes have a right upon you, your wife has a right upon you, and your visitor has a right upon you. It is enough for you to fast three days every month. You get a ten-fold reward for any good deed, and thus this is tantamount to fasting the whole month.' But I favored what is harder and so things were made harder for me. I said: 'O Messenger of Allah, I have strength (to fast more).' He said: 'Then, observe the fast of Prophet David, (peace be upon him) and no more than that.' I said: 'How was the fast of Prophet David (peace be upon him)?' He said: 'Half of the month.' ‘Abdullāh used to say after growing old: 'I wish I had taken the Prophet's dispensation.'"

Book of I'tikāf (Retreat in Ramadhan)

Chapter: When should a person who wants to observe I'tikāf enter his place of I'tikāf.

'Ā'ishah (may Allah be pleased with her) reported: "The Prophet (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) used to observe I'tikāf in the last ten days of Ramadhan, and I used to pitch a tent for him. He would offer the Fajr prayer then enter the tent." Hafsa asked permission from 'Ā'ishah to pitch a tent for her, which she gave and she pitched the tent. When Zaynab bint Jahsh saw it, she pitched another tent. In the morning, the Prophet (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) saw the tents and said: "What is this?" He was told about it and, thereupon, he said: "Do you think that they intended to do righteousness by this?" He, therefore, abandoned I'tikāf in that month and observed it for ten days in the month of Shawwāl.

Chapter: What is permissible and what is impermissible for a pilgrim for Hajj or 'Umrah and pointing out the prohibition of using perfume by him.

'Abdullāh ibn 'Umar (may Allah be pleased with him) reported that a man asked: "O Messenger of Allah, what kind of clothes should a pilgrim wear?" The Messenger of Allah (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) replied: "He should not wear shirts, turbans, trousers, hooded cloaks, or leather socks except if he cannot find sandals; he may wear leather socks after cutting them to make them lower than the ankles. And do not wear clothes to which saffron or Wars (kind of perfume) was applied."

Chapter: Prohibition of hunting for a Muhrim.

'Abdullāh ibn Abi Qatādah reported: "My father set out in the year of Al-Hudaybiyah and his companions assumed Ihrām but he did not. He (Abu Qatādah) said: 'The Prophet (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) was informed that an enemy would attack him. So, he proceeded onwards. While I was among my companions, with some of them laughing among themselves, I looked up and saw an onager. I attacked it, stabbed it, and caught it. I asked my companions for help, but they refused. Then, we all ate its meat and were afraid that we might lag far behind and be separated from the Prophet (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him). So, I went in search of him and made my horse run at a great speed then at a normal speed alternately till I met a man from the tribe of Banu Ghifār at midnight. I asked him: "Where did you leave the Prophet (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him)?" He replied: "I left him at Ta'han, and he intended to take the midday nap at As-Suqya." I followed the trace and reached the Prophet (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him). I said: "O Messenger of Allah, your people send their greetings to you and invoke Allah's blessings upon you. They are afraid they might be left behind. So, please wait for them." I added: "O Messenger of Allah, I hunted an onager and some of its meat is with me." The Prophet (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) told the people to eat it, and all of them were in the state of Ihrām."

Chapter: Permissibility of shaving a Muhrim's head if it has some ailment, the obligation of paying a ransom for shaving his head, and stating how much it is.

'Abdullāh ibn Ma'qil reported: "I sat with Ka'b ibn 'Ujrah in this mosque, i.e. the Kufa Mosque, and asked him about the meaning of the verse: {Pay a ransom of fasting}. He said: 'I was taken to the Prophet (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) while lice were falling on my face. He said: "I did not think that your trouble reached such an extent. Can you afford to slaughter a sheep?" I said: "no." He said: "Then fast three days or feed six poor people by giving half a Sā' of food for each and shave your head." ## Chapter: Desirability of Ramal during Tawāf,

‘Umrah, and the first Tawāf in Hajj.

Ibn ‘Abbās (may Allah be pleased with him) reported: "When the Messenger of Allah (may Allah’s peace and blessings be upon him) and his Companions came (to Makkah), the polytheists said: 'A group of people will come to you whom the fever of Yathrib has weakened.' So, the Prophet (may Allah’s peace and blessings be upon him) ordered them to do Ramal (walk hurriedly or run lightly) in the first three rounds of Tawāf and walk at a normal pace between the two corners. Nothing prevented him from ordering them to do Ramal in all rounds except his compassion for them."

Chapter: Clarifying that Sa'i between Safa and Marwah is a pillar necessary for the validity of Hajj.

'Urwah reported: "I asked 'Ā'ishah (may Allah be pleased with her): 'How do you interpret the verse: {Indeed, Safa and Marwah are among the symbols of Allah. So, whoever performs Hajj to the House or 'Umrah - there is no blame upon him for walking between them}? By Allah, there is no blame if one does not perform Tawāf between Safa and Marwah.' She replied: 'O my nephew, your interpretation is not correct. Had this interpretation of yours been correct, the verse should have been: there is no blame upon him for not walking between them. But, in fact, this verse was revealed concerning the Ansār who used to assume Ihrām for an idol called 'Manāt', which they used to worship at a place called Al-Mushallal, before embracing Islam; whoever assumed Ihrām for that idol would refrain from performing Tawāf between Safa and Marwah. When they embraced Islam, they asked the Messenger of Allah (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) regarding it, saying: "O Messenger of Allah, we used to refrain from Tawāf between Safa and Marwah." So, Allah revealed: {Indeed, Safa and Marwah are among the symbols of Alla}.' 'Ā'ishah added: 'Indeed, the Messenger of Allah (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) set the Sunnah of Tawāf between Safa and Marwah. So, nobody may omit the Tawāf between them.' Later on, I told Abu Bakr ibn 'Abdur-Rahmān about it and he said: 'I have not heard this information before, but I heard the learned men saying that all people, except those whom 'Ā'ishah mentioned, and who used to assume Ihrām for the sake of Manāt, used to perform Tawāf between Safa and Marwah. When Allah, the Almighty, mentioned the Tawāf of the Ka'bah and did not mention Safa and Marwah in the Qur'an, the people asked: "O Messenger of Allah, we used to perform Tawāf between Safa and Marwah and Allah has revealed verses concerning Tawāf of the Ka'bah and has not mentioned Safa and Marwah. Is there any harm if we perform Tawāf between Safa and Marwah?" So, Allah revealed: {Indeed, Safa and Marwah are among the symbols of Allah}. It seems that this verse was revealed concerning both groups; those who used to refrain from Tawāf between Safa and Marwah before Islam and those who used to perform Tawāf then but refrained from it after embracing Islam because Allah Almighty, enjoined Tawāf of the Ka'bah and did not mention Safa, until He mentioned that after mentioning Tawāf of the Ka'bah.”

Chapter: Desirability of entering the Ka'bah for pilgrims and others,

praying therein, and offering supplications in all its sides.

Ibn 'Umar, may Allah be pleased with him, said: "The Prophet (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) arrived at Makkah in the year of the Conquest while Osāmah was riding behind him on his she-camel, Al-Qaswā'. Bilāl and 'Uthmān ibn Talhah were accompanying him. When he made his she-camel kneel down near the Ka'bah, he said to 'Uthman: 'Bring us the key of the Ka'bah.' He brought the key to him and opened the door for him. The Prophet, Osāmah, Bilāl and 'Uthmān entered the Ka'bah and closed the door behind them from inside. The Prophet (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) stayed therein for a long time then came out. The people rushed to get in, but I went in before them and found Bilāl standing behind the door, and I asked him: 'Where did the Messenger of Allah (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) pray?' He said: 'He prayed between those two front pillars,' and the Ka'bah was built on six pillars in two rows. 'He prayed between two pillars of the front row with the door of the Ka'bah at his back and facing the wall which faces the person when he enters the Ka'bah, leaving between himself and that wall (a distance of about three cubits).' But I forgot to ask him how many Rak'ahs the Prophet (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) prayed. There is a red piece of marble at the place where he offered the prayer."

'Ā'ishah, may Allah be pleased with her, reported that the Prophet (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) said to her: "O 'Ā'ishah, were it not for the fact that your people are close to their time of Jāhiliyyah (pre-Islam), I would have ordered for the Ka'bah to be demolished, and would have included in it the portion which had been excluded, and would have made it at a level with the ground and would have made two doors for it, one towards the east and the other towards the west, and then by doing this it would have been built on the foundations laid by Abraham." That was what urged Ibn Az-Zubayr to demolish the Ka'bah. Yazīd said: "I saw Ibn Az-Zubayr when he demolished and rebuilt the Ka'bah and included in it a portion of Al-Hijr (the unroofed portion of Ka'bah which is at present in the form of a semi-circular wall to the northwest of the Ka'bah). I saw the original foundations of Abraham which were of stones resembling the humps of camels." Jarīr asked Yazīd: "Where was its place?" Yazīd said: "I will now show it to you." So Jarīr accompanied Yazīd and entered Al-Hijr, and Yazīd pointed to a place and said: "Here it is." Jarīr said: "It seemed to me to be about six cubits from Al-Hijr or so."

Chapter: The sanctity of Makkah and the sanctity of its game, grasses, trees ### and lost property, except for the one who announces it, is forever.

Abu Hurayrah (may Allah be pleased with him) reported: "In the year of the Conquest of Makkah, the tribe of Khuzā'ah killed a man from the tribe of Banu Layth in retaliation for a person who was killed from their tribe before Islam. So, the Messenger of Allah (may Allah 's peace and blessings be upon him) got up and said: 'Indeed, Allah Almighty, held back the elephant from Makkah, but He enabled His Messenger and the believers to conquer it. Behold! Fighting in it was not permitted for anyone before me, nor will it be permitted for anyone after me; it was permitted for me only for a short while during the day. Verily, it is from this moment a sanctuary; its trees should not be cut down, its grass should not be removed, its thorny shrubs should not be uprooted, and lost items found in it should not be taken except by one who intends to look for their owner. And if someone is killed therein, his heir has the option to either ask for retribution or accept blood money.' A man from Yemen named Abu Shāh stood up and said: 'Write that for me, O Messenger of Allah.' The Messenger of Allah (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) said: 'Write that for Abu Shāh.' Then a man from Quraysh stood up and said: 'O Messenger of Allah, except for Idhkhir (a pleasant-smelling grass), for we use it in our houses and graves.' The Messenger, may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him, said: 'Except for Idhkhir.'"

Chapter: Merit of Madinah and the invocation of the Prophet (PBUH) that Allah bless it, stating its sanctity and the inviolability of its game and trees, and marking the borders of its sanctuary.

'Ali (may Allah be pleased with him) addressed the people while he was standing on a brick pulpit and carrying a sword from which was hanging a scroll. He said: "By Allah, we have no book to read except the Book of Allah and whatever is on this scroll," and he unrolled it, and behold, in it was written what sort of camels were to be given as blood money, and there was also written in it: "Madinah is a sanctuary from 'Ayr (a mountain) to such-and-such place, so whoever commits a sin therein or introduces a religious innovation, he will incur the curse of Allah, the angels, and all the people, and Allah will not accept his obligatory or optional good deeds." There was also written in it: "The asylum (pledge of protection) granted by any Muslim is one and the same, even a Muslim of the lowest status is to be secured and respected by all other Muslims, and whoever betrays a Muslim in this respect (by violating the pledge) will incur the curse of Allah, the angels, and all the people, and Allah will not accept his obligatory or optional good deeds." There was also written in it: "Any freed slave who takes as allies other than his real allies (his ex-owners who manumitted him) without their permission will incur the curse of Allah, the angels, and all the people, and Allah will not accept his obligatory or optional good deeds."

Chapter: Dowry and the permissibility of it being in the form of teaching the Qur'an or a ring ### made of iron or other things whether much or little, and the desirability ### of it being five hundred dirhams if not causing harm to the suitor.

Sahl ibn Sa'd As-Sā'idi, may Allah be pleased with him, reported: "A woman came to Allah's Messenger (PBUH) and said: 'O Messenger of Allah, I have come to you to give myself to you in marriage.' Allah's Messenger (PBUH) looked at her and cast a glance at her from head to foot. Allah's Messenger (PBUH) then lowered his head. When the woman saw that he had made no decision in regard to her, she sat down. There stood up a person from amongst his companions and said: 'O Messenger of Allah, marry her off to me if you have no need of her.' The Prophet (PBUH) said: 'Is there anything with you (which you can give as a dower)?' He said: 'No, Messenger of Allah, by Allah I have nothing.' Thereupon Allah's Messenger (PBUH) said: 'Go to your people (family) and see if you can find something.' He returned and said: 'I have found nothing.' The Messenger of Allah (PBUH) said: 'Look for even an iron ring.' He went and returned and said: No, by Allah, not even an iron ring, but only this lower garment of mine (Sahl said that he had no upper garment), half of which (I am prepared to part with) for her. Thereupon Allah's Messenger (PBUH) said: How can your lower garment serve your purpose, for if you wear it, she would not be able to make any use of it, and if she wears it there would not be anything upon you?' The man sat down and as the sitting prolonged he stood up (in disappointment) and as he was going back, Allah's Messenger (PBUH) ordered him to be called back, and as he came, he said to him: 'Do you know anything of the Qur'an?' He said: 'I know such-and-such surahs (and he counted them)', whereupon he (PBUH) said: 'Can you memorize them by heart?' He said: 'Yes,' whereupon he (Allah's Messenger) said: 'Go, I have given her to you in marriage for the Qur'an which you know.'"

Sa'd was a rich man, so he said to 'Abdur-Rahmān: 'I will give you half of my wealth and will help you marry.' 'Abdur-Rahmān said (to him): 'May Allah bless for you your family and wealth. Show me the way to the market.' So 'Abdur-Rahmān did not return (from the market) till he had gained some dried buttermilk (yogurt) and ghee (through trading). He brought that to his household. We stayed for sometime (or as long as Allah willed), and then 'Abdur-Rahmān came, scented with yellowish perfume. The Prophet (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) said (to him): 'What is this?' He replied: 'O Messenger of Allah, I married an Ansāri woman.' He asked: 'What did you give her (as dower)?' He replied: 'A gold stone, or gold equal to the weight of a date stone.' The Prophet (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) said: 'Give a wedding banquet even if with one sheep.'"

Chapter: Merit of freeing one's slave-girl then marrying her.

Anas ibn Mālik (may Allah be pleased with him) reported: "The Messenger of Allah (PBUH) conquered Khaybar, so we offered the morning prayer there in the darkness of early dawn. Then the Prophet of Allah (PBUH) rode (his mount). Abu Talhah rode his, and I rode behind Abu Talhah on the same mount. The Prophet of Allah (PBUH) rode through the alleys of Khaybar and (I rode so close to him that) my knee touched the thigh of the Prophet of Allah (PBUH). His Izār (waist wrapper) rolled back from his thigh, and I could see its whiteness. When he entered the town, he said: 'Allahu Akbar (God is Great). Khaybar is doomed to destruction. When we descend in the midst of a people, it is a bad day for them who have been warned (and have not taken heed).' He said these words thrice. The people of the town had just come out (from their houses) to go about their jobs. They said (in surprise): 'Muhammad has come.' 'Abdul-'Azīz (sub-narrator) said: 'some of our companions said: Muhammad and the army (have come).' He said: 'We seized it (the territory of Khaybar) by force, and the captives of war were rounded up. Dihyah al-Kalbi came and said: 'O Prophet of Allah, give me a girl from the captives.' He said: 'Go and take a girl.' Dihyah chose Safiyyah bint Huyayy. A man came to the Prophet (PBUH) and said: 'O Prophet of Allah, you have given to Dihyah Safiyyah bint Huyayy, the honorable lady of Qurayzhah and An-Nadīr. She is worthy of you alone.' He said: 'Call him along with her.' So he came along with her. When the Prophet (PBUH) saw her he said: 'Take a girl from the captives other than her.' He (the narrator) said: 'The Prophet (PBUH) then freed her and married her. Thābit said to him (the narrator): 'O Abu Hamzah, how much dower did he give her?' He said: 'Her self. He freed her and married her.' On the way, Umm Sulaym prepared her for him and sent her to him in the night. So the Prophet (PBUH) was a bridegroom in the morning and he said: 'He who has anything (to eat) should bring it.' A leather sheet was spread. One man came with cheese, another with dates, and another with refined butter, and they prepared Hays (a type of dish), and that was the wedding feast of the Messenger of Allah (PBUH)."

Chapter: A woman divorced thrice is not lawful for her ex-husband in marriage until she marries another man who has sexual intercourse with her, then he leaves her (by divorce or death) and her waiting period is over.

'Ā'ishah (may Allah be pleased with her) said: "The wife of Rifā'ah al-Qurazhi came to the Messenger of Allah (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) while I was sitting, and Abu Bakr was also there. She said: 'O Messenger of Allah, I was the wife of Rifā'ah and he divorced me irrevocably. Then I married 'Abdur-Rahmān ibn az-Zubayr who, by Allah, O Messenger of Allah, has only something like a fringe of a garment, showing the fringe of her dress (meaning that his male organ was very small). Khālid ibn Sa'īd, who was standing at the door as he was not permitted, heard her statement and said: 'O Abu Bakr, why do you not stop this woman from saying what she is saying openly before the Messenger of Allah?' No, by Allah, the Messenger of Allah (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) did no more than smile. Then he said to the woman: 'Perhaps you wish to return to Rifā'ah? That is impossible until he ('Abdur-Rahmān) consummates his marriage with you.' That became the followed practice from then onwards."

Abu Sa'īd (may Allah be pleased with him) said: "We set out with the Messenger of Allah (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) in the battle of Banu al-Mustaliq. We received captives from the Arab captives. We desired women and celibacy became hard on us. We wanted to practice coitus interruptus so we asked the Messenger of Allah (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) whether it was permissible. He said: 'It is better for you not to do so, for if any soul is predestined to exist up to the Day of Resurrection, it will exist.'"

Book of Breastfeeding

Chapter: Unlawfulness of marriage due to kinship by birth is same in case of milk kinship.

'Amrah bint 'Abdur-Rahmān reported that 'Ā'ishah (may Allah be pleased with her), wife of the Prophet (PBUH), told her that the Prophet (PBUH) was at her home when she heard a man asking permission to be admitted into Hafsah's home. She said: "I said: 'O Messenger of Allah, a man is asking permission to enter your home!' The Messenger of Allah (PBUH) said: 'I believe he is so-and-so,' referring to Hafsah's paternal milk uncle (brother of her wet nurse's husband). 'Ā'ishah said: "If so-and-so (referring to her own milk uncle) was alive, would he enter upon me?" The Messenger of Allah (PBUH) said: "Yes, for milk kinship makes unlawful for marriage those who are unlawful for marriage by birth kinship."

'Ā'ishah (may Allah be pleased with her) reported: "Aflah, the brother of Abul-Qu'ays (her wet nurse's husband) came and asked my permission (to enter the house) after Hijāb was ordained. I said I would not let him in until I get permission from the Prophet (PBUH), for it was not his brother, Abul-Qu'ays, who suckled me; rather, it was Abul-Qu'ays's wife who suckled me. The Prophet (PBUH) entered the house so I said to him: 'O Messenger of Allah, Aflah, the brother of Abul-Qu'ays, asked to come in and I refused to let him in until I get your permission.' The Prophet (PBUH) said: 'What prevented you from letting your paternal uncle in?' I said: 'O Messenger of Allah, it was not the man who suckled me; rather, it was Abul-Qu'ays's wife who suckled me.' Jābir (may Allah be pleased with him) reported: "We were with the Prophet (PBUH) detecting lineage of infant from physical features on a military expedition. When we returned, I urged my camel to move quickly as it was slow. A rider caught up with me from behind and he goaded my camel with a stick he had with him. My camel moved forward like the best that you have ever seen. I turned and found that it was the Prophet (PBUH). I said: 'O Messenger of Allah, I am newly wedded.' He said: 'You married?' I said: 'Yes.' He asked: 'A virgin or previously married one?' I said: 'A previously married.' He said: 'Why not a virgin so that you could play with her and she could play with you?' Then when we arrived at Madinah and were about to enter, he said: 'Wait until you enter at night, meaning in the evening, so that the woman with dishevelled hair may comb it and the woman whose husband was away may shave her pubic hair.'"

Chapter: Prohibition of divorcing a woman during her menses against her will and that the divorce in this case is effective, and the husband is commanded to take her back.

‘Abdullāh ibn ‘Umar, may Allah be pleased with both of them, reported that he had divorced his wife while she was menstruating, and this happened during the lifetime of the Messenger of Allah (PBUH). ‘Umar ibn Al-Khattāb asked the Messenger of Allah (PBUH) about that, so the Messenger of Allah (PBUH) said: "Order him to take her back and keep her till she is clean (by taking ritual bath at the end of menses), and then wait till she gets her next menses and then becomes clean again. Thereupon, if he wishes to keep her, he may do so, and if he wishes to divorce her, he may divorce her before having sexual intercourse with her. That is the prescribed waiting period that Allah has fixed for the women who are to be divorced."

Chapter: Obligation of paying expiation on one who said his wife is unlawful for him without intending divorce thereby.

‘Ā’ishah (may Allah be pleased with her) reported: "The Messenger of Allah (PBUH) liked honey and sweets. After offering the ‘Asr prayer, he used to enter upon his wives and approach them. Once, he entered upon Hafsa bint ‘Umar and stayed with her longer than his usual stay. I felt jealous so I asked about that and I was told that a woman from her kin had sent her a skinbag of honey as a gift, and she gave a drink from it to the Messenger of Allah (PBUH). I said: 'By Allah, we will play a trick on him.' I mentioned that to Sawdah and said: 'He will approach you. When he does, say to him: "Have you eaten Maghāfir (bad-smelling gum)?" He would say: "no." Then say to him: "What is this smell I notice on you?" He would say: "Hafsa has given me a drink of honey." Then you should say to him: "The honey-bees must have sucked from the ‘Urfut tree," and I would also say the same to him, and you, Safiyyah, say the same.' Sawdah said: "By Allah, when he was at the door, I wanted to say right away what you (‘Ā’ishah) ordered me to do out of fear of you." So when he came near to Sawdah, she said: 'O Messenger of Allah, have you eaten Maghāfir?' He said: 'no.' She said: 'Then what is this smell that I notice on you?' He said: 'Hafsa gave me a drink of honey.' She said: 'The honey-bees must have sucked from the ‘Urfut tree.' When he came to me, I said the same thing. He then visited Safiyyah and she said the same thing. When he visited Hafsa, she said: 'O Messenger of Allah, should I get you a drink of it.' He said: 'I do not need it.' Sawdah said: 'By Allah, we have deprived him (of the honey).' I said to her: 'Be quiet.'" ## Chapter: Obligation of mourning during the post-death waiting period and its prohibition beyond that except for the period of three days.

Humayd ibn Nāfi' reported that Zaynab bint Abi Salamah narrated to him the following three Hadīths: She said: "I went to Umm Habībah, the wife of Allah's Messenger (PBUH) when her father Abu Sufyān died. Umm Habībah sent for perfume that had a yellowness in it, saffron or otherwise, and she applied it to a girl and then rubbed some of it on her cheeks then said: 'By Allah, I have no need for perfume but I heard Allah's Messenger (PBUH) saying: "It is impermissible for a woman who believes in Allah and the Last Day to mourn for the dead beyond three days, except in case (of the death) of the husband; (she mourns) for four months and ten days." Zaynab said: "I then visited Zaynab bint Jahsh when her brother died and she sent for perfume and applied it then said: 'By Allah, I have no need for perfume but I heard Allah's Messenger (PBUH) say on the pulpit: "It is impermissible for a woman who believes in Allah and the Last Day to mourn the dead beyond three days except in case (of the death) of the husband; (she mourns) for four months and ten days." Zaynab said: "And I heard (my mother) Umm Salamah saying: 'A woman came to Allah's Messenger (PBUH) and said: "O Messenger of Allah, I have a daughter whose husband has died and she is suffering from sore eyes; should she apply (antimony) kohl to it?" The Messenger of Allah (PBUH) said: "No," repeating it twice or thrice, saying only "No" each time. Then he said: "It is only four mouths and ten days, whereas in the pre-Islamic period none of you threw away the dung until one year had passed." Humayd said: "I said to Zaynab: 'What is this throwing of dung until a year had passed?'" Zaynab said: "When a woman's husband died, she would go into a hut and put on her worst clothes, and would not apply perfume until a year has passed. Then an animal, like a donkey or a goat or a bird, would be brought to her and she would rub her skin with it. The animal with which she rubbed her body would scarcely survive. She then would come out and would be given a piece of dung and she would throw it away. Then, she could go back to using whatever she wishes of perfume or otherwise."

Book of Li'ān (Oaths of Condemnation)

Ibn 'Umar (may Allah be pleased with him) reported: "The Prophet (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) said to the couple who were involved in a case of Li'ān (oaths of mutual condemnation): 'Your reckoning is with Allah. One of you two is a liar, and you (the husband) have no right over her (she is no longer your wife).' The man said: 'What about my money (i.e. the dower I paid)?' The Prophet (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) said: 'You have no right to any money. If you have told the truth about her, then it (the dower) was in return for the consummation of your marriage with her; and if you have lied about her, then you have even less right (to any money).'"

Chapter: Walā' (Allegiance) is for the one who manumits.

'Ā'ishah (may Allah be pleased with her) reported: "Barīrah came to me and said: 'I have agreed with my masters to pay them nine 'ūqiyyahs (of silver), one 'ūqiyyah per year; please help me.' I said: 'I am ready to pay the whole amount now provided that your masters agree that your Walā' will be for me.' So, Barīrah went to her masters and told them about that offer but they refused to accept it. She returned, and at that time, the Prophet (PBUH) was sitting with me. Barīrah said: 'I told them of the offer but they did not accept it, and insisted that the Walā' be for them.' The Prophet (PBUH) heard that. 'Ā'ishah told the whole story to the Prophet (PBUH). He said to her: "Take her and stipulate that her Walā' would be yours as the Walā' is for the one who manumits." 'Ā'ishah did so. Then the Messenger of Allah (PBUH) stood up in front of the people, and after glorifying and praising Allah, he said: 'What is the matter with some men who impose conditions which are not in Allah's Book? Any condition that is not in Allah's Book is invalid, even if they were one hundred conditions. Allah's judgment is more right and His conditions are firmer. Verily, Walā' is for the one who manumits.'"

Abu Hurayrah (may Allah be pleased with him) reported that the Prophet (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) said: "Do not go out to meet the riders (in a trade caravan to buy from it on the way before it reaches town), do not urge buyers to cancel a sale transaction to make a new one with you, do not bid against each other (to fool another bidder), a townsman must not sell on behalf of a Bedouin, and do not tie up the udders of sheep (so that they appear to have a lot of milk). If someone buys them while in this condition and has already milked them, then he has two options: If he is pleased with them, he may keep them, and if he is displeased with them, he may return them along with a Sā' of dates."

'Abdullah ibn 'Umar (may Allah be pleased with him) reported that the Prophet (PBUH) concluded a contract with the people of Khaybar to utilize the land on the condition that half its harvest of fruits or crops would be their share. The Prophet (PBUH) used to give his wives one hundred Wasqs; eighty Wasqs of dates and twenty Wasqs of barley. When 'Umar became Caliph, he gave the wives of the Prophet (PBUH) the option of either having part of the land and water as their shares or carrying on the previous practice. Some of them chose the land and some chose the Wasqs, and 'Ā'ishah chose the land.

An-Nu'mān ibn Bashīr (may Allah be pleased with him) reported that he heard the Prophet (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) say: "Verily, the lawful is clear and unlawful is clear, and between them are doubtful matters which many people do not know. Whoever avoids doubtful matters clears his liability regarding his religion and his honor, and whoever falls into doubtful matters will fall into the unlawful, just like the shepherd who grazes his animals in the vicinity of a pasture declared prohibited (by the king) and is, thus, likely to let them graze in a prohibited area (and be punished for that). Verily, every king has a protected area and the protected area of Allah is His prohibitions. Verily, in the body there is a piece of flesh which if it becomes upright then the entire body will be upright, and if it becomes corrupt the entire body will be corrupt. Verily, it is the heart."

Chapter: Selling a camel and stipulating riding it.

Jābir (may Allah be pleased with him) reported that he was riding a tired camel. The Prophet (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) passed by and struck it and invoked Allah's blessings for it. The camel became so fast like it had never been before. The Prophet (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) then said: "Sell it to me for one 'ūqiyyah (of gold)." I said: "no." He again said: "Sell it to me for one 'ūqiyyah (of gold)." I sold it and stipulated that I should ride it to my home. When we arrived (in Madinah), I took the camel to the Prophet (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) and he gave me its price. I returned home but he sent for me (and when I went to him) he said: "I would not take your camel. Take your camel as a gift for you."

Chapter: Inheritance of one who leaves behind neither ascendants nor descendants as heirs.

Jābir ibn ‘Abdullāh (may Allah be pleased with him) reported: "Once I fell ill. The Prophet (may Allah’s peace and blessings be upon him) and Abu Bakr came walking to pay me a visit and found me unconscious. The Prophet (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) performed ablution and then poured the remaining water upon me so I came to my senses and saw the Prophet. ## Chapter : Whoever leaves behind a property, then it is for his heirs.

Abu Hurayrah (may Allah be pleased with him) reported that whenever a dead man in debt was brought to Allah's Messenger (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) he would ask: "Has he left anything to repay his debt?" If he was informed that he had left something to repay his debts, he would perform the funeral prayer over him; otherwise he would order the Muslims to perform the funeral prayer over him. When Allah made the Prophet (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) wealthy through conquests, he said: "I am more entitled to be the guardian of the believers than themselves, so if a Muslim dies while in debt, I am responsible for the repayment of his debt, and whoever leaves wealth (after his death) it is for his heirs."

'Umar (may Allah be pleased with him) reported: "I donated a horse for Jihād (fighting in the cause of Allah). The man who had the horse neglected it, so I wanted to buy it back, thinking that he would sell it for a cheap price. I asked the Prophet (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) about this and he said: 'Do not buy it back and do not take back your charity, even if he gives it to you for one dirham, for the one who takes back his charity is like the one who takes back his vomit.'"

Sa'd ibn Abi Waqqās (may Allah be pleased with him) reported: "The Messenger of Allah (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) came to visit me in the year of the Farewell Hajj as I was very ill. I said to him: 'O Messenger of Allah, you can see how ill I am. I have wealth and no one will inherit me except a daughter. Shall I give two thirds of my wealth in charity?' He said: 'no.' I said: 'Then shall I give one half?' He said: 'no.' Then he said: '(Give) one third, and one third is a lot. Indeed, leaving your heirs rich is better than leaving them poor begging from people. You never spend anything seeking thereby the pleasure of Allah but you are rewarded for it, even what you put in your wife's mouth.' I said: 'O Messenger of Allah, will I be left here in Makkah after my companions have departed to Madinah?' He said: 'If you are left behind and do good deeds whereby you seek Allah's pleasure, you will be raised a degree and your status will be elevated on account of them. Perhaps you would be left behind so that some people might benefit by you and others might be harmed by you. O Allah, complete for my Companions their Hijrah (immigration to Madinah), and do not turn them back on their heels. The unfortunate one, however, is Sa'd ibn Khawlah.' (The Messenger of Allah (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) felt sorry for him as he had died in Makkah)."

Chapter: Waqf (endowment).

Ibn 'Umar (may Allah be pleased with him) reported that (his father) 'Umar ibn al-Khattāb acquired a piece of land in Khaybar, so he came to the Prophet (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) to seek his orders on what he should do with it. He said: "O Messenger of Allah, I have acquired a piece of land in Khaybar, and I have never acquired a property more precious to me than it. What do you command me to do with it?" He (the Prophet, may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) said: "If you wish, you can keep it as an endowment and give its yields in charity." So, 'Umar gave the land in charity on condition that it would neither be sold nor given as a gift nor bequeathed as inheritance. He gave its yields as charity to the poor, the relatives, for emancipation of slaves, in Allah's cause, and for the wayfarers and guests. It was permissible for its administrator to eat from it in a reasonable just manner and feed others without seeking to be wealthy by means of it. Ibn Sīrīn said: "... without storing the yields with the purpose of becoming rich."

Chapter: It is recommended for one who takes an oath (to do something) then finds another choice to be better, to go for the better choice and expiate his (first) oath.

Zahdam reported: "Once we were in the house of Abu Mūsa and he offered a cooked rooster. A man from the tribe of Banu Taym-illāh with red complexion as if he were from the Byzantine war prisoners was present. Abu Mūsa invited him to share the meal but he said (apologizing): 'I saw it eating something (dirty) so I developed an aversion to eating it, and I swore that I would not eat (it).' Abu Mūsa said: 'Come along, I will tell you about this matter (i.e. how to cancel one's oath). I went to the Prophet (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) in the company of a group of Ash'ariyyūn, asking him to provide us with riding animals. He said: 'By Allah, I will not provide you with any riding animals, and I have nothing to make you ride on.' Then some camels as booty were brought to Allah's Messenger (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) and he asked for us, saying: 'Where are the group of Ash'ariyyūn?' Then he ordered that we be given five white-hump camels. When we set out we said: 'What have we done? We will never be blessed (with what we have been given).' So we returned to him and said: 'We asked you to provide us with riding animals but you swore that you would not provide us with any riding animals. Have you forgotten?' He replied: 'It was not me who provided you with riding animals. It was Allah who provided you with them, and, by Allah, Allah willing, if I ever swear to do something then I find that it is better to do something else, I will do the thing which is better and make expiation for my (broken) oath.'"

Chapter: Permissibility of selling a Mudabbar (a slave who is promised to be manumitted after his master's death).

Jābir (may Allah be pleased with him) said: "A man from the Ansār made his slave a Mudabbar (promised him manumission after his master's death) and he had no property other than him. When the Prophet (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) heard of this, he said (to his Companions): "Who wants to buy him (the slave) from me?" So Nu'aym ibn an-Nahhām bought him for eight-hundred dirhams." I (the sub-narrator) heard Jābir say: "That was a coptic slave who died in the same year."

Book of Qasāmah (Compurgation), Muhāribīn (Rebels), Qasās (Retribution), and Diyyah (blood money)

Chapter: Qasāmah

Bushayr ibn Yasār, the freed slave of the Ansār, reported that Rāfi' ibn Khadīj and Sahl ibn Abi Hathmah narrated to him that: "Abdullāh ibn Sahl and Muhayyisah ibn Mas'ūd went to Khaybar and they dispersed in the gardens of the date-palm trees. 'Abdullah ibn Sahl was murdered. Then 'Abdur-Rahmān ibn Sahl, Huwayyisah and Muhayyisah, the two sons of Mas'ūd, came to the Prophet (PBUH) and spoke about the case of their (murdered) friend. 'Abdur-Rahmān, who was the youngest of them all, started talking. The Prophet (PBUH) said: 'Let the older (among you) speak first.' So they spoke about the case of their (murdered) friend. The Prophet (PBUH) said: 'Will fifty of you take an oath whereby you will have the right to receive the blood money of your murdered man (or he said: your companion)'. They said: 'O Allah's Messenger, it is an incident that we did not witness.' The Prophet (PBUH) said: 'Then the Jews will release you from the oath if fifty of them (the Jews) should take an oath to contradict your claim.' They said: 'O Allah's Messenger, they are disbelievers (and they will take a false oath).' Then Allah's Messenger (PBUH) himself paid the Diyyah (blood money) to them. Sahl said: 'I was there when one of those she-camels kicked me as she entered a fold of theirs.'"

Chapter: Ruling concerning Rebels and Apostates.

Anas (may Allah be pleased with him) reported: "Some people from 'Ukl or 'Uraynah came to Madinah, and the climate of Madinah did not suit them so they became ill. The Prophet (PBUH) ordered them to go to the milch camels and drink from their urine and milk as medicine. They went there and when they recovered from their illness, they killed the herdsman of the Prophet (PBUH) and drove off the camels. The news about them reached the Prophet (PBUH) early in the morning, so he sent people in pursuit of them, and they were captured and brought to him around noon. He ordered that their hands and feet be cut off and their eyes be branded with iron, and they were thrown out to Al-Harrah. They begged for water but were not given any." Abu Qilābah said: "Those men stole, killed, apostatized after embracing faith, and waged war against Allah and his Messenger."

Chapter: Confirmation of retribution in the case of killing with a stone or other sharp or heavy objects, and killing a man in retaliation for a woman.

Anas ibn Mālik (may Allah be pleased with him) reported: "A girl wearing silver accessories went out in Madinah and a Jew struck her with a stone. She was brought to the Prophet (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) before taking her last breath. He asked her: 'Did so-and-so kill you?' She raised her head (denying that). He asked again: 'Did so- and-so kill you?' She raised her head (denying that). He asked her the third time: 'Did so-and-so kill you?' She lowered her head (agreeing). ## Chapter: Blood money of a fetus, the obligation to pay blood money in case of manslaughter ### and semi-intentional murder is on the perpetrator's male relatives.

Abu Hurayrah (may Allah be pleased with him) reported: "The Messenger of Allah (PBUH) judged between two women from the Hudhayl tribe who fought each other and one of them threw a stone at the other that hit her belly and she was pregnant, killing the child in her womb. They filed their case with the Prophet (PBUH) and he judged that the blood money for what was in her womb was a male or female slave. The guardian of the woman who was fined said : 'O Allah's Messenger! Shall I be fined for a creature that has neither drunk nor eaten, neither spoke nor cried?There should be no blood money for a case like that.' ## Chapter: Amputating the hand of a thief of noble descent or otherwise ### and forbiddance of interceding to waive a prescribed punishment.

‘Ā’ishah (may Allah be pleased with her) reported: "The Quraysh (tribe) were greatly concerned about the case of the Makhzūmi woman who had committed theft. They wondered who should intercede for her with the Messenger of Allah (may Allah’s peace and blessings be upon him). Some said: 'Only Osāmah ibn Zayd, the Prophet’s beloved one, would dare do so.' So Osāmah spoke to him about it and his answer was: 'Do you intercede regarding one of the punishments prescribed by Allah?' Then, he got up and addressed the people saying: 'The people before you were ruined because if a noble person among them committed theft, they would leave him unpunished, but if a weak person among them committed theft, they would inflict the legal punishment upon him. By Allah, if Fātimah, the daughter of Muhammad, were to commit theft, I would cut off her hand.'"

Chapter: The one who admits committing Zina (unlawful sexual intercourse)

Abu Hurayrah and Zayd ibn Khālid al-Juhani (may Allah be pleased with them) reported: “Two Bedouin men came to the Messenger of Allah (PBUH), so one of them said: ‘O Messenger of Allah, I adjure you, by Allah, to judge in my case according to the Book of Allah.’ The other disputant – who had more knowledge than him – said: ‘Yes, judge between us according to the Book of Allah, and give me permission to speak first.’ The Messenger of Allah (PBUH) said: ‘Speak.’ He said: ‘My son was employed by this man, and he committed adultery with his wife. I was told that the punishment for my son would be stoning but that he could be ransomed for one hundred sheep and their offspring. I asked the people of knowledge and they told me that the punishment for my son would be one hundred lashes and exile for one year and that this man’s wife would be stoned.’ The Messenger of Allah (PBUH) said: ‘By the One in Whose hand my soul is, I will judge between you according to the Book of Allah. The offspring and sheep will be returned, and your son is to be given one hundred lashes and exiled for one year. O Unays, go to that man’s wife in the morning and if she admits, then stone her.’ So he went to her the next day and she admitted it, and the Messenger of Allah (PBUH) gave the order that she be stoned.”

'Abdullah ibn 'Abbās (may Allah be pleased with him) reported: "On the day of the Conquest of Makkah, the Messenger of Allah (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) said: 'There is no Hijrah (emigration) after the Conquest (of Makkah), but there is Jihād and (good) intention, and whenever you are called for Jihād, you should immediately respond to the call. Verily, Allah has made this city sacred since the day He created the heavens and earth. It is a sanctuary by Allah's decree until the Day of Judgment. Fighting in it was not permissible for anyone before me, and it was made permissible for me for only an hour of a day. It is sacred by the sacredness granted by Allah until the Day of Judgment. Its thorns should not be cut off, its game should not be chased, and any lost item found therein should not be picked up except by one who would announce it publicly (to find its owner), and its green grass should not be cut off.' Al-'Abbās said: 'O Messenger of Allah, except for Idhkhir (lemongrass), for it is used by their blacksmiths and for their domestic purposes.' Anas ibn Mālik (may Allah be pleased with him) reported: "The Messenger of Allah (PBUH) used to visit Umm Harām bint Milhān, who would offer him meals. Umm Harām was the wife of 'Ubādah ibn as-Sāmit. Allah's Messenger (PBUH) once visited her and she fed him then inspected his head for lice. Allah's Messenger (PBUH) fell asleep then woke up smiling. Umm Harām asked: 'What makes you smile, O Allah's Messenger?' He said: 'Some of my followers were presented before me as fighters in Allah's cause on board a ship in the sea; they were kings on the thrones (or like kings on the thrones).' (Is'hāq, a sub-narrator was not sure as to which wording the Prophet used) Umm Harām said: 'O Allah's Messenger, invoke Allah that He makes me one of them.' Allah's Messenger (PBUH) invoked Allah for her and fell asleep again then woke up smiling. Once again Umm Harām asked: 'What makes you smile, O Allah's Messenger?' He replied: 'Some of my followers were presented to me as fighters in Allah's Cause,' repeating the same dream. Umm Harām said: 'O Allah's Messenger, invoke Allah that He makes me one of them.' He said: 'You are amongst the first ones.' Later, she did board a ship on the sea during the caliphate of Mu'āwiyah ibn Abi Sufyān, and after she disembarked, she fell off her riding animal and died."

Book of Hunting and Slaughtering, and Animals that are Lawful to Eat

Chapter: Hunting by trained hounds.

'Adiyy ibn Hātim (may Allah be pleased with him) reported: "I asked the Prophet (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) about the game killed by a Mi'rād (a sharp-edged piece of wood or a piece of wood fitted with a sharp piece of iron used for hunting). He said: 'If the game is killed with the sharp edge, eat it, but if it is killed with the broad side, then it was beaten to death (thus unlawful to eat).' I asked him about the game killed by a trained hound. He said: 'If the hound catches the game for you, eat it, for killing the game by the hound is like its slaughtering. But if you see with your hound or hounds another one, and you are afraid that it might have shared in hunting the game with your hound and killed it, then you should not eat of it, because you have mentioned Allah's name on (sending) your hound only, but you have not mentioned it on the other hound."

Jābir (may Allah be pleased with him) reported: "We set out in the army of Al-Khabat and Abu 'Ubaydah was the commander of the troops. We were struck with severe hunger and the sea threw out a dead whale the like of which we had never seen. It was called Al-'Anbar (sperm whale). We ate it for half a month. Abu 'Ubaydah took (and fixed) one of its bones and a rider passed underneath it (without touching it). (Jābir added:) Abu 'Ubaydah said (to us): 'Eat (of that fish).' When we arrived at Madinah, we informed the Prophet (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) about that, and he said: 'Eat, for it is provision that Allah brought out for you. Feed us if you have some of it.' So, some of them gave him (of that fish) and he ate it."

Chapter: The permissibility of slaughtering by any tool that causes blood to flow ### except for a tooth, nail, and all other bones.

Rāfi' ibn Khadīj (may Allah be pleased with him) reported: "We were with the Prophet (PBUH) in Dhul-Hulayfah when the people were stricken by hunger. They got camels and sheep as war booty." He added: "The Prophet (PBUH) was behind the people. They hurried and slaughtered the animals and put their meat in pots and started cooking it. (When the Prophet came) he ordered the pots to be overturned then he distributed the animals (of the booty), regarding ten sheep as equal to one camel. One of the camels fled and the people ran after it till they were exhausted. There were only a few horses with them. A man threw an arrow at the camel, and Allah stopped the camel with it. The Prophet (PBUH) said: 'Some of these animals are like wild animals, so if you lose control over one of these animals, treat it in this way.' Before distributing them among the soldiers, my grandfather said: 'We may meet the enemy soon and we have no knives; can we slaughter the animals with reeds?' The Prophet (PBUH) said: 'Use whatever causes blood to flow, and eat the animals if the name of Allah has been mentioned before slaughtering them. Do not slaughter with teeth or claws and I will tell you why: It is because teeth are bones and claws are the knives of Abyssinians.'"

'Abdullāh ibn Mas'ūd (may Allah be pleased with him) reported: "May Allah curse those women who practice tattooing and those who get themselves tattooed, and those women who remove the hair from their eyebrows, and those who make artificial spaces between their teeth in order to look more beautiful whereby they change Allah's creation." His words reached a woman from Bani Asad called Umm Ya'qūb who came (to 'Abdullah) and said: "I learned that you cursed such-and-such (women)?" He replied: "Why should I not curse those whom Allah's Messenger (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) had cursed and who are (cursed) in Allah's Book!" Umm Ya'qūb said: "I have read the whole Qur'an, but I did not find in it what you say." He said: "Verily, if you had read it, you would have found it. Did you not read: {And whatever the Messenger gives you take it, and whatever he forbids you, abstain from it}?" She replied: "Yes, I did." He said: "Verily, Allah's Messenger (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) forbade such things." She said: "But I see your wife doing these things?" He said: "Go and watch her." She went and watched her but could not see anything in support of her claim. Upon that, he said: "If my wife was as you thought, I would not keep her in my company."

Chapter: The obligation to follow the way of the Prophet (PBUH)

'Abdullāh ibn az-Zubayr (may Allah be pleased with him) reported that a man from the Ansār disputed with Az-Zubayr about water streamlets in the lava plain which they used in irrigating the palm trees. The Ansāri man said: "Release the water and let it run." But Az-Zubayr refused. They raised their case to the Prophet (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) who said to Az-Zubayr: "Water your land, O Zubayr, then let the water run to your neighbour." The Ansāri man became angry and said: "O Messenger of Allah! It is because he is your cousin!" Thereupon, the face of the Messenger of Allah (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) changed in color and said: "Water your land, O Zubayr, then keep back the water till it returns to the embankment." Az-Zubayr said: "By Allah, I think the following verse was revealed about that incident: {But no, by your Lord! they can have no true faith until they make you judge of what is in dispute among them...}"

Book of Repentance

Chapter: Hadīth on the repentance of Ka'b ibn Mālik and his two companions.

'Abdur-Rahman ibn 'Abdullah ibn Ka'b ibn Mālik reported that (his father) 'Abdullah ibn Ka'b ibn Mālik, who was Ka'b's guide from among his sons when Ka'b turned blind, said: I heard Ka'b ibn Mālik relating his Hadīth in which he mentioned his story when he remained behind after the departure of the Messenger of Allah (PBUH) for the Battle of Tabūk. Ka'b said: "I did not miss any battle with the Messenger of Allah (PBUH) except the Battle of Tabūk. In fact, I did not take part in the Battle of Badr, but none who failed to take part in it was blamed, for Allah's Messenger (PBUH) had gone out to meet the caravans of the Quraysh. But Allah caused the Muslims to meet their enemy unexpectedly (without prior planning). I witnessed the night of the 'Aqabah pledge of allegiance with the Prophet (PBUH) when we jointly agreed to support Islam with all our efforts. It would not please me to have attended the Battle of Badr instead of the 'Aqabah pledge, although Badr is more notable than it among the people. As for my state at the time when I remained behind after the Messenger of Allah (PBUH) I had never been stronger nor wealthier than I was at the time when I remained behind in that battle. By Allah, I had never been in possession of two she-camels until the time of the battle. The Messenger of Allah (PBUH) used to conceal his intention to embark upon a battle by making reference to other battles, until that battle (Tabūk). The Messenger of Allah (PBUH) conducted that battle during a season of extreme heat, undertaking a lengthy journey through desert terrain. In addition, the enemy was great in number. Thus, the Prophet (PBUH) clarified the matter to the Muslims, in order that they would prepare themselves properly for the battle, and he informed them of the intended destination. The Messenger of Allah (PBUH) was accompanied by a considerable number of Muslims, whose names could not be recorded in a register." Ka'b continued: "Any individual who wished to remain behind would assume that his absence would pass unnoticed, unless it was revealed by Allah by means of divine revelation. The Messenger of Allah (PBUH) undertook that battle during a season wherein the fruit had ripened and the shade had become pleasant. The Messenger of Allah (PBUH) and the Muslims equipped themselves with the necessary provisions. I too went out in the morning in order to prepare myself; however, I returned without accomplishing anything and said to myself I am capable of it. In this manner, I continued to postpone my preparations until the departure of the Messenger of Allah (PBUH) and the Muslims with him while I had not prepared what I needed to join them. I said to myself I would prepare myself a day or two after his departure then catch up with them. Again, I did not accomplish anything until they hurried and departed. I intended to depart and catch up with them, and I wish I did, but I was not destined for it. I would go out amongst the people after the departure of the Messenger of Allah (PBUH) and it would make me sad to see no men around except one who was suspected of being a hypocrite, or a weak man whom Allah had excused from participation in battle. The Messenger of Allah (PBUH) did not mention me until he reached Tabūk. He was sitting amongst his people in Tabūk and asked: 'What happened to Ka'b ibn Mālik?' A man from the tribe of Bani Salimah responded: 'O Messenger of Allah, he was prevented by his preoccupation with his fine clothes and his self-admiration.' Mu'ādh ibn Jabal said: 'What an evil statement you have made! By Allah, O Messenger of Allah, we do not know about him save what is good.' The Messenger of Allah (PBUH) remained silent." Ka'b ibn Mālik continues: "When I learned that the Messenger of Allah (PBUH) had started his journey back from Tabūk, I was overwhelmed by distress, and thought, therefore, of inventing lies. I asked myself: With what can I avoid his anger tomorrow? I sought assistance from every individual of sound mind and judgment from my family. When it was mentioned that the arrival of the Messenger of Allah (PBUH) was imminent, the false excuses vanished from my mind. I knew that I could not pass safely from this situation by whatever lie I can come up with. I, therefore, resolved upon speaking the truth. The Messenger of Allah (PBUH) arrived the following morning. It was his practice when he returned from a journey that he would proceed towards the mosque and perform a two Rak'ah prayer therein and then sit amongst the people. After those matters had taken place, those who lagged behind approached him. They started to present their excuses and take oaths to that effect. There were some and eighty men in number. The Messenger of Allah (PBUH) accepted their apparent attitude and their pledge of allegiance, sought forgiveness for them, and he entrusted to Allah their secret affairs. Thereafter, I approached him, and when I greeted him, he smiled like one who is angry. Then he said: 'Come forward.' I approached him walking until I was sitting before him. Then he said: 'What prevented you from accompanying us? Had you not purchased a riding animal?' I responded: 'Yes, I did. By Allah, if I were in the presence of any other man from amongst the inhabitants of this world, I am sure that I would avoid His wrath by presenting an excuse, for I have been granted the ability to speak in an eloquently persuasive manner. However, I am aware that if I utter a lie today in order to seek your pleasure, certainly Allah will cause you to become angry with me in the future. Alternatively, if I tell you the truth, thereby causing you to become angry, I may hope for a good consequence from Allah, Exalted and Glorified. No, By Allah I have no excuse to present. By Allah, I had never before been stronger nor wealthier than the time I failed to accompany you.' The Messenger of Allah (PBUH) said: 'As for this man, he has spoken the truth. So, stand up (and leave) until Allah gives a judgment concerning you.' I stood up, and a group of men from the tribe of Bani Salimah came along and followed me. They addressed me: 'By Allah! We have not known you to commit a misdeed before that. Verily you did wrong when you failed to find an excuse for yourself before the Messenger of Allah (PBUH) like the other absentees who excused themselves. It would have sufficed you against your sin that the Messenger of Allah would seek forgiveness for you.' They continued to reprimand me until I desired to return to the Messenger of Allah (PBUH) and speak contrary to what I had said to him before. Then I asked them: 'Is there any other individual in a similar position?' They responded: 'Yes, there are two men who uttered the same statement as you, and both received the same directive as you did. 'I asked: 'Who are these two men?' They answered: 'Murārah ibn ar-Rabī' and Hilāl ibn Umayyah al-Wāqifi.' They mentioned two virtuous men who had participated in the Battle of Badr and were good examples to be followed. After they had mentioned these two men, I remained steadfast upon my original statement. Thereafter, the Messenger of Allah (PBUH) prohibited Muslims from speaking to us - namely the three individuals from amongst the Muslims who failed to join him for the battle. So, the people avoided us and changed the way they treated us, until the land wherein I lived seemed strange; not one which I was familiar with. We remained in that state for fifty nights. As for my two companions, they committed themselves to their houses and stayed therein, weeping. However, I was the youngest and most enduring of the three, I would therefore leave my house to perform prayer with the Muslims. I would wander around the markets, yet no one would speak to me. I would approach the Messenger of Allah (PBUH) and offer the greeting of peace to him whilst he was sitting amidst his gathering after having performed the prayer. I would ask myself: Did his lips move with returning the greeting or not? Thereafter, I would perform the prayer close by him and look at him stealthily. When I was engaged with the prayer, he would turn towards me. However, when I looked in his direction, he would turn his face away from me. When this period of estrangement became too long, I set out to walk until I climbed over the wall of Abu Qatādah's garden. He was my cousin and the most beloved person to me. I offered the greeting of peace to him, and, by Allah, he did not return the greeting to me. Hence, I said: 'O Abu Qatādah: I adjure you by Allah, do you not know that I love Allah and His Messenger?' He remained silent. I appealed to him by Allah a second time, but he remained silent. Then in the third time he replied: 'Allah and His Messenger know best.' Thereupon, tears flowed from my eyes. I turned away and climbed over the wall." He continued: "While I was walking in the market of Madinah, I saw a Christian farmer from amongst the farmers of Sham (Greater Syria), who had traveled to Madinah to sell their produce. He said: 'Who shall direct me to Ka'b ibn Mālik?' The people pointed towards me, so he approached me and handed me a letter from the King of Ghassān. As I was a scribe, I could read the letter in which it was written: 'It has come to our knowledge that your companion has forsaken you. Verily, God has not rendered this world for you as a dwelling of disgrace and degradation, nor one of loss and destitution. So join us and we shall bestow upon you comfort and consolation.' Upon reading the letter I said to myself: This too is a trial. I went toward the oven and burnt it therein. When a period of forty out of fifty nights had passed, the messenger of the Messenger of Allah (PBUH) approached me and said: 'The Messenger of Allah (PBUH) commands you to stay away from your wife.' I said: 'Should I divorce her, or what should I do?' He responded: 'No, just stay away from her and do not approach her.' He issued a similar directive concerning my two companions. Hence, I said to my wife: 'Go to your parents and remain with them until Allah passes judgment on this matter.' The wife of Hilāl ibn Umayyah came to the Messenger of Allah (PBUH) and said: 'O Messenger of Allah, verily Hilāl ibn Umayyah is an old man who is incapable of taking care of himself, and he does not have a servant. Would you object if I serve him?' He replied: 'No, but he must not approach you.' She said: 'By Allah, he has no desire for any matter. By Allah, he has not ceased to weep from the day this matter started until this time now.' Some of my family members asked me: 'Why don't you seek permission from the Messenger of Allah (PBUH) concerning your wife, as he has granted permission for the wife of Hilāl ibn Umayyah to serve him?' I said: 'By Allah, I shall not seek permission from the Messenger of Allah (PBUH) concerning her. I do not know what the Messenger of Allah (PBUH) would say if I sought his permission in relation to her while I am still a young man.' I remained in that state for an additional ten nights, until fifty nights had passed from the time the Prophet (PBUH) had prohibited the people from speaking to us. On the morning of the fiftieth night, I performed Fajr prayer on the roof of one of our houses. While I was in the state that Allah described in His Book: feeling that my soul had become contracted, and the earth had contracted for me despite its vastness, all of a sudden, I heard a loud voice coming from the direction of Mount Sal'. Somebody shouted at the top of his voice: 'O Ka'b ibn Mālik, Rejoice!' I prostrated myself upon the ground, realizing that relief from this trial had finally arrived. The Messenger of Allah (PBUH) told the people that Allah accepted our repentance. After Fajr prayer, the people proceeded forth to congratulate us, and carriers of the good news rushed toward my two companions. A horseman raced towards me in order to congratulate me and a messenger from the tribe of Aslam raced towards the mountain and got over it in order to make the announcement. I heard his voice before that of the horseman. When the man whose voice I had heard approached me to convey the glad tidings, I took off my two garments and clothed him in them. By Allah, on that day I was not in possession of any other garments, so I borrowed two garments and put them on then I headed to the Messenger of Allah (PBUH). People started receiving me in groups, congratulating me for the acceptance of my repentance. They said: 'We congratulate you for Allah's acceptance of your repentance.' When I entered the mosque, the Messenger of Allah (PBUH) was sitting surrounded by people. Talhah ibn 'Ubaydillah hastened towards me. He shook my hand and congratulated me. By Allah, no one from amongst the Muhajirūn (Emigrants) stood in order to greet me save him. I never forgot that gesture from Talhah. When I greeted the Messenger of Allah (PBUH) his face was shining with happiness and he said: 'Rejoice for the best day you have witnessed since your mother gave birth to you.' I asked: 'Is this from you or from Allah?' He said: 'It is from Allah.' Whenever the Messenger of Allah (PBUH) was delighted, his face would become bright as if it were a piece of the moon. We recognized that as characteristic of him. When I sat before him, I said: 'O Messenger of Allah, part of my repentance is that I should give up my entire wealth as charity for the sake of Allah and His Messenger.' The Messenger of Allah (PBUH) said: 'Keep a portion of your wealth, for it is better for you to do so.' I said: 'I shall keep my share in Khaybar. O Messenger of Allah, verily Allah has delivered me from this trial because I spoke the truth. My repentance therefore dictates that I shall speak only the truth as long as I live.' By Allah, I am not aware of any Muslim whom Allah has blessed for speaking the truth more than myself, from the time I mentioned those words of truth to the Messenger of Allah (PBUH). By Allah, I have never intended to utter a word of falsehood from the time when I mentioned those words to the Messenger of Allah (PBUH) to the present day. I hope that Allah will protect me from uttering falsehood in the remaining part of my life. Allah revealed the following verse to His Messenger (PBUH): {Allah has forgiven the Prophet, the Muhajirūn, and the Ansar who followed him in the hour of difficulty after the hearts of a party of them had almost inclined [to doubt], and then He forgave them. Indeed, He was to them Kind and Merciful. And [He also forgave] the three who were left behind to the point that the earth became contracted on them despite its vastness and their souls confined them and they were certain that there is no refuge from Allah except in Him. Then He turned to them so they could repent. Indeed, Allah is the Accepting of repentance, the Merciful. O you who believe, fear Allah and be with those who are truthful.} [Surat At-Tawbah :117-119] By Allah, after guiding me to Islam, Allah has not bestowed upon me a favor greater in my sight than my statement of truth to the Messenger of Allah (PBUH) and my action of not uttering a lie to him, for I would have been ruined, as those who uttered lies were ruined. Allah ascribed to those who had uttered falsehood the most evil description he Had ever ascribed to anyone else when He revealed His statement: {They will swear by Allah to you when you return to them that you would leave them alone. So leave them alone; indeed they are evil; and their refuge is Hell as recompense for what they had been earning. They swear to you so that you might be satisfied with them. But if you should be satisfied with them - indeed, Allah is not satisfied with a defiantly disobedient people} [Surat At-Tawbah: 95-96] Ka'b continued: "We, the three who lagged behind, differed from those whose excuses were accepted by the Messenger of Allah (PBUH) when they swore to him to that effect. He accepted their pledge of allegiance and sought forgiveness for them and he deferred our case until Allah passed judgment in relation to it. In reference to that, Allah Almighty said: {He also forgave the three who remained behind ... } [Surat At-Tawbah:118] In this Verse, Allah did not refer to our remaining behind the military expedition. Rather, He refers to the deferment of passing judgment on us, in contrast to those who took an oath before the Messenger of Allah (PBUH) and excused themselves and he accepted their excuses."
